CORAM: A.P. DESHPANDE, J.

PC:

In a complaint filed by the respondent the Industrial Court passed an order on an application at Exh.U-2 and directed payment of amount of gratuity. On account of non-compliance of the said order the respondent filed criminal proceedings under section 48 before the Labour Court and the Labour

Court issued process, which order in turn was challenged by filing revision before the Industrial Court. The dismissal of the revision by the Industrial Court has given rise to the present writ petition. During the pendency of the writ petition it is undisputed that the respondents have been paid amount of gratuity and thus their grievance stands redressed. In all fairness, learned counsel for the respondent submits that on account of payment of gratuity amount to respondents he will withdraw the criminal complaint filed before the Labour Court so also the original complaint filed before the Industrial Court. Hence nothing survives in writ petition and same is disposed of in above terms.
